

BON ECHO INN

is a summer resort of more than usual distinction, situated in the Frontenac Highlands of Eastern Ontario about fifty miles north of Lake Ontario, and twenty miles north of Kaladar Station, midway between Toronto and Montreal on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It may be reached in a few hours by either rail or motor from Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa.

The morning trains leaving Toronto make connections with over-night trains from the principal American cities to the south and west. The Bon Echo Motors meet all day trains at Kaladar Station to take guests over the fascinating drive into the heart of the Bald Mountains, where Bon Echo is reached in ample time for a swim before dinner. Arrangements may be made to meet night trains at Kaladar or Tweed.

There are good roads right to the door of Bon Echo Inn. Leaving the Provincial Highway at Belleville, you proceed north on the Hastings County Road through Tweed, Actinolite, Flinton, Northbrook, Cloyne to Bon Echo. The journey is made in two and a-half to three hours by moderate drivers. There are a number of routes leading into Bon Echo from the east, south and west, any of which will be gladly furnished on application.

Information concerning routes, rates, etc., may be obtained from agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway or from the Manager, Bon Echo Inn, Limited, Bon Echo, Ont. Telegraph address Kaladar, Ontario. Bell telephone via Tweed (Prior to June 15th, 91 St. Joseph Street, Toronto, Ontario.)

THE BIG ROCK

Opposite the Inn is the Big Rock of Bon Echo. This Canadian Gibraltar, a mighty mass of red granite, rises sheer out of the waters of the lake to a height of over 400 feet, and is over a mile and a-half in length. It is as striking a natural prospect as the Cape of the Saguenay or the ramparts of Quebec, and bathed in the rays of the setting sun, or dramatized by the vivid contrasts of a moonlit night, the Big Rock has a magnificent and untiring splendour, it is impossible to seize with words.

BON ECHO

is noted as the most beautiful of all Ontario summer resorts. It is in the midst of a vast, colorful country, threaded by fascinating roads, studded with innumerable lakes, and, as yet, virtually unknown. Here one finds the impelling charm of the Great North country within two hours of a concrete highway.

The Inn, with its thirty cottages and bungalows, is superbly situated on the point of land separating two splendid sheets of inland water—The Mazinaw Lakes. Its verandahs command views of lakes, blue hills and beaches gleaming in the sun. Opposite the Inn is the Great Rock of legendary Indian battles, of hidden treasure caves of silver, and of long forgotten worship.

Within a radius of 15 miles of Bon Echo are over 70 lakes which offer as fine small-mouthed black bass fishing as may be found in the Province. All the lakes abound in salmon trout, and there are also pike and pickerel. To the north, but somewhat difficult of access, are unfished speckle trout streams.

Good roads afford numerous motor trips for those who find a thrill in discovering new and lovely country. Old logging roads and trails cut through the miles of woods surrounding Bon Echo furnish delightful tramps and horse-back rides. The Upper and Lower Mazinaw Lakes with the rivers and lakes flowing into them provide numerous canoe trips, each of them made memorable by luncheon from one of Bon Echo's incomparable hampers.

* * *

Two splendid bathing beaches of white sand—on one of which small children may wade out over a hundred yards—affords swimming to suit everyone. For the adventurous there is the Rock to dive from with 400 feet of water under its towering granite face.

There are fast tennis and badminton courts, riding horses, a theatre where clever plays are produced two and three times a week. And there is dancing, of course, as much or as little as you wish.

The aim of Bon Echo Inn has been to bring to this superb natural setting the material comforts which make a summer holiday joyful and recreative. It is a resort with a simple and informal atmosphere where one may find great enjoyment in the midst of beautiful surroundings, and the company of congenial people.

ACCOMMODATION—Bon Echo is a self-contained community embracing the Inn proper and some forty cottages, log bungalows and tents. The Inn houses the lounge and dining rooms, card rooms, etc., and studded along the shores of the North and South Lakes, all

Taste, imagination and skill have combined to create at Bon Echo one of Canada's outstanding resorts. Here the famous Lake Country of Ontario is at its best—accessible and yet an unspoiled wilderness. Bon Echo's situation is astonishingly beautiful. The standards of comfort, cleanliness and food are those of a private home. Thoughtful study has gone into every detail to lift it above the average resort, and to make it a more charming

WHAT TO DO—Fast clay tennis and badminton courts; canoe trips; motoring; fishing, miles of trails for hikes and tramps, two fine sand beaches with a bathing float and diving tower; riding horses, shore dinners, the theatre, dancing—there is no dearth of amusements.

MEALS The meals are planned and prepared under the direct supervision of the Manager, whose staff in this department includes experts usually found only in the largest and most elaborate hotels. An abundance of cream and milk is supplied by our own herd of cows, and fresh vegetables and fruit from gardens operated for our exclusive use. The table is one that one would expect to find in the home of an imaginative and accomplished hostess rather than at a summer Inn.

ONE OF THE COTTAGES

within a short distance of the Inn, are the cottages and bungalows. All meals are served in the central Dining Room whose wide windows overlook the North Lake.

ROOMS—There are two sleeping floors in the Inn with bedrooms attractively furnished, and ranging in size from single rooms to those which can accommodate four persons.

A COTTAGE LIVING ROOM

and attractive place at which to spend a summer holiday. The rates are moderate—exactly half what they would be at a corresponding American resort.

COTTAGES—The separate cottages offer all the advantages of a private summer home with none of the attendant worry and responsibility. They are secluded and yet within a minute or two walk of the Inn. A choice of one, two, three, four or five and eight-room cottages provides for any sized party or family. All the cottages are furnished with twin beds, most of them have running water and living rooms. "Greystones," an eight-room cottage with four double and two single bedrooms, each with hot and cold running water, bath, sleeping porch, fireplace and large living room, offers a de luxe summer residence.

CHILDREN Particular care and attention is paid to children. Bon Echo is unique among Canadian resorts in making a specialty of children's diets as a feature of its service without extra cost. A separate menu is provided for the younger children, and individual feeding charts are followed carefully. There is a separate children's dining room where they are under the care of the children's dietitian. The services of competent nurse maids may be obtained at a small cost by those parents who do not bring their nurses with them.

BUNGALOWS—For two people, or a family with one child, no more perfect spot could be imagined than one of the one room log bungalows. With running water, twin birch beds, built-in wardrobes and dressing tables, they have been designed to provide a maximum of comfort.

A BUNGALOW INTERIOR

TENTS—For the many who prefer to spend their holidays under canvas, there are tents which accommodate one or two persons. They are floored, flyed, and equipped with cot beds, dressing-wash stands, etc.—simple but sufficient.
