THE

POLITICAL "A, APPLe-PIE;"

OR, THE

"EXTRAORDINARY RED BOOK"

VERSIFIED:

FOR THE INSTRUCTION AND AMUSEMENT OF THE RISING

GENERATION.

BY THE AUTHOR OF

"THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT."

With Twenty-Three Cuts.

"When shall we three meet again?" — Shakspeare.

The Twentieth Edition.

London:
PRINTED FOR J. JOHNSTON, NO. 98, CHEAPSIDE.
1820.
Price One Shilling.
Should any of the Royal, Noble, Right Reverend, Right Honourable, Honourable, and most worthy Ladies and Gentlemen, described as Guests at this National Feast, imagine that they are not perfectly welcome to all the good things set before them, as far at least as the Author is concerned, they will form a very erroneous idea of the real views and feelings of him who has invited the Public to this entertainment.

•• The Reader is requested to observe, that those persons whom the Artist has chosen to place at the head of the table, have their respective names printed in Capitals, in the lines following the several Cuts; and should there be any errors, as doubtless there may be some, in the amount of the sums, it ought in fairness to be placed to the account of the book he has versified, rather than to the Author himself. It should also be observed, that the sums total are all exclusive of the Irish Pensions.

Scyfang, Printer, 57, Fleet Market.
ARDEN, Lord, Register of the High Court of Admiralty; also Register of the High Court of Appeals for Prizes; likewise Register of the High Court of Delegates; is said to receive £38,574 per annum.

The A's altogether take about £104,484 16s. 10d.

A—APPLE PIE,

a political Pie,

To the taste quite delightful, and nice to the eye:
'Tis the Pie of the State, made of all that is good;
The ingredients all purchased by John Bull's blood:
It is bigger and better than e'er you heard mention;
Yes, bigger, by far, than Lord ARDEN's big pension.
BARRINGTON, Hon. SHUTE, Lord Bishop of Durham, £19,000.
BATHURST, Earl of, Secretary at War, and Teller of the Exchequer, &c. receives, it is said, £32,700. The Hon. APSLEY BATHURST, one of the Clerks along with the Earl, of the Crown Court of Chancery, also Clerk of the Dispensations, participates in the above salary or pension. HENRY BATHURST, Bishop of Norwich, £6,000.

The B's altogether take about £212,607 5s. lid.

B—BIT IT,

as if he had ne'er bit before,
Though, from Bute down to Burke, 't had been bit by a score.
The BISHOPS, God bless them, and bless all their wigs!
They bit at this Pie, like as many fat pigs;
Though the bites that they made they were none of them small,
Great Barrington's greatly exceeded them all.
The Bathursts they bit a piece large as one's fist; Brougham, Bennett, and Burdett, bit at it, but miss'd.
CANNING, the Hon. GEORGE, President of the Board of Trade and Control, also Receiver-General of the Alienation Office, £6,110. STRATFORD CANNING, Minister Plenipotentiary at Switzerland, £4,976.
CASTLEREAGH, Viscount, Principal Secretary of State, and Commissioner for India Affairs, &c. £7,500.
CUMBERLAND, Duke of, Colonel of the 15th regiment of Hussars, £19,000.
CAMBRIDGE, Duke of, £21,000.
CATHCART, Viscount, Ambassador at St. Petersburg, acting Minister, and Lord Vice-Admiral of Scotland, £27,361.
CROKER, Rt. Hon. J. W. First Secretary to the Admiralty, and Secretary to the Widows' Pension, £22,250. In the time of war £1,000 additional.

The C's altogether take about £368,709 14s. 5d.

C—CUT IT,

and carv'd it, and carp'd at it too,

When Canning and Castlereagh cut it in two;
Who, born of the same fond political mother,
Whilst cutting this Pie, made a cut at each other.
The good Duke of CUMBERLAND having some qualms,
Soon after he married the Princess of Salms,
Lest enough of this Pie for himself and his wife,
He should not possess, to support them through life,
Begg'd hard for some more, and it would have been so,
Had not COCHRANE stepp'd in, just in time to say “No!”
Then Clarence, the Admiral, the Duke and the Ranger,
Who dismiss'd Mrs. Jordan, and married a stranger;
And Cambridge, his brother, who married Miss Hesse,
Both cut pretty deeply this Apple-Pie mess.
But Camden, who long had enjoyed this rich feast,
And fearing the people would call him a beast,
If he ate any longer, most nobly desisted,
Whilst Cathcart and Croker as nobly persisted;
But Cobbett, Carlisle, and the rest of that squad,
Like the fox of the grapes, said 'twas nauseous and bad;
And old Major Cartwright, he curs'd and he swore,
“He ne'er saw such cutting and carving before.”
DUKE OF YORK, as Keeper of the King's Person during his Majesty's illness, £10,000 per annum.
DALLAS, Sir ROBERT, Knt. Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, £3,500.
DUCKS, Rt. Hon. W. &c. &c. &c. with Lady ELIZABETH ELEANORA, &c. receive in all about £11,519.
The D's altogether receive about £62,718 12s. 1d.

D—DIVIDED IT,
somewhat unfairly 'tis said,
When the DUKE took a piece full as large as his head
For merely attending his father's sick bed.
Bob Dallas succeeding Sir VICARY GIBBS,
Stuck three thousand five hundred large cuts in his ribs;
And the famous Dundasses, with pretty Scotch names,
George, Davy, and Willy, and Robert, and James,
With sweet Lady BETTY, and one or two more,
Amounting in all to about half a score,
Into numerous large pieces divided this Pie,
Or the Red-book relates a most palpable lie.
ERSKINE, Lord, for having formerly been Lord Chancellor, £1,000.
ELDON, Lord High Chancellor, Speaker of the House of Lords, £18,000.
ELGIN, Earl of, having formerly been an Ambassador, &c. £2,000.
ELLIOTT, Hon. G. as Governor of the Mint, £300.
EXMOUTH, Lord, a pension of £2,000.
The E's altogether receive about £81,725 5s. 3d.

E—ENVIED,

and ate on't, and wishfully eyed it,
When ERSKINE, the broom-maker, tasted and tried it
But ELDON—good heavens!—what a piece did he eat,
'Twas as large as a wool-sack, and rather more sweet;
But, yet, as he work'd pretty hard, he deserv'd it,
And if a bit fell, his good lady preserv'd it.
So ELGIN and ELLIOTT, who governs the Mint,
Though some people say that there is nothing in't,
And EXMOUTH, who pull'd the proud Dey by the ears,
And rattled his guns 'gainst the walls of Algiers,
All partook of this Pie, some more and some less,
But little or more, they were all in the mess.
FORSIER, Rt. Hon. J. for having been Speaker of the Irish House of Commons, a pension of £5,000 per ann.

FRERE, Rt. Hon. J. H. a poet of no mean talents, as having been Minister, &c. at Madrid and Lisbon, a pension of £1,700.

FISHER, Dr. J. Bp. of Salisbury, and Chan. of the Ord. of the Gart. £4,770.

FOX, Mrs. E. B. widow of the late Rt. Hon. C. J. Fox, a pension of £1,200;

FRAZER, HUGH, Deputy Provost Marshal in Jamaica, £1,554; other persons of this name, various pensions amounting to about £2,000 per ann.

FITZGERALD, Rt. Hon. W. V. a Lord of the Treasury, £1,600; other persons of this name, pensions amounting in all to about £1,500 per ann.

The F's receive altogether about £40,245 11s. 5d.

F—FOUGHT FOR IT

bravely, if talking and writing,
And eating, and drinking, and sleeping, were fighting,
For Forster was Speaker, and Frere he wrote rhymes,
And Fisher liv'd well, in the midst of hard times;
And old Widow Fox, like the famous Jack Horner,
Did eat her plumb-pudding, and sleep in the corner;
Like the Frasers, Fitzgeralds, and many besides,
Who have nothing to do but to fill their sleek hides,
With the fruit and the juice of this fam'd Apple-Pie,
Eat and drink well to-day, for to-morrow they die.
GEORGE III. Annual Income, as King, said to be about ONE MILLION.
GRENVILLE, Lord, Auditor of the Exchequer, a sinecure of 4,000.
GIFORD, Sir ROBERT, Attorney-General, £6,000.
GOULBURN, HENRY, M. P. for West Looe, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, £6,000.
GLOUCESTER Duke of, and the Duchess, the Princess MARY, £28,000.
GORDON, Duke of, Keeper of the Great Seal of Scotland, £3,000.
GRAFION, Duke of, a pension for life, and also as Seal Officer of the King's Bench and Common Pleas, £9,756.
The G's altogether receive about £133,970 5s. 8d.

G—GOT IT,
'twas given him, and well he deserv'd it;
'Twas given him in trust, and full well he's preserv'd it;
The Stuarts this treasure were made to disgorge.
It was granted to William—descended to George;
And where is the wretch who will dare to declare,
That such honour great George was unworthy to bear?
Though since he's received it, a few busy G's
Have each prey'd upon it, like maggots on cheese.
There's Grenville—heav'n bless him, because he's a Whig,
Yet, the piece that he got, it was rather too big:
I love all the Whigs, they're so simple and pure;
But four thousand cuts off one Pie. to be sure,
For nothing at all, one can hardly endure.
There's busy BOB GIFFORD, the Attorney, 'tis said,
Puts six thousand pieces each year in his head.
For which he's to quell every rumpus and rout,
And seize all the cannon that's "laying about."
But fam'd Harry Goulburn, M.P. for West Looe,
Got six thousand more, though he'd little to do.
The good Duke of Gloucester, and Mary his Duchess,
Gott twenty-eight thousand big lumps in their clutches:
Much good may it do them! for no one will say
But the Duke and his wife go each night to the play;
And every one loves them because they're so kind;
And twenty-eight thousand John Bull does not mind.
Then Gordon, to shew that he was not asleep,
Got three thousand pieces away at a sweep,
To keep the Scotch seal—though they've got none to keep.
And Grafton, above all manoeuvres and tricks,
Nine thousand seven hundred and fifty and six,
He got, and that honestly, too, I declare,
For though he's a Whig, he's a right to a share;
But Grattan, and Grosvenor, and noble Earl Grey,
Thought this Pie was most wantonly given away;
And swore such proceedings it never would do,
Unless they themselves had a finger in't too.
HASTINGS, Marquis of, and Earl Moira, Governor-General of India, and Constable and Governor of the Tower of London, about £25,947.

HERTFORD, Marquis of, Lord Chamberlain, £3,000

HARCOURT, Earl of, Master of the Robes and of the Horse to the Queen; for expenses of Windsor Park; and as Governor of the Royal Military College; and the Countess of HARCOURT, Lady of the Queen's Bedchamber, together about £8,100.

HILL, Lord, a pension of £2,000; also as Governor of Hull, £180.

HUNN, MARY and MARIA, Mother and Sister to the Rt. Hon. G. Canning, £500.

HOLLAND, Lord, Rec.-Gen of the issues of Glamorg. Monmouth, &c, granted to his Lordship and his Assigns, during the lives of C. J. Fox and H. E. Fox the survivor, £350.

HUSKISSON, W. Esq. M. P., a reversion in case of losing office, £1,200; also as Colonial Agent for Ceylon, and Commissioner of Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues; also, ELIZA EMILY HUSKISSON, to commence on the Death of her Husband, £615. In all about £2,400.

The H's altogether take about £131,250 0s. 19d.

H—HAD IT—

Oh! 'twas a miraculous dish!

Unlike every other of fowl, flesh, or fish:

Whilst one man had got it, another partook on't,
And many did wish for't, who scarcely would look on't.
"Lord Hastings!—my stars! was the like ever seen? His lordship, in England, quite lanky and lean.
A few years having fed on this Pie in the East,
Grew sleeky and fat as a Staffordshire beast:
And, indeed, well he might, for 'twere monstrous strange,
If twenty-five thousand a year did not change
Any man upon earth, who before had but little,
Yet now has all things that just suit to a little.
Lord Hertford, the loyal good-humour'd, and true,
Had three thousand pieces, with nothing to do,
But how much His Lady had nobody knew;
For, though much belov'd by the Prince of the Pie,
Her Ladyship was most remarkably shy,
And took what she had, as they say, "on the sly."
The Harcourts, who kept the King's robes neat and clean,
The horses, and bedchamber, too, of the Queen,
(Though the King being sickly, his robes never wore,
And the Queen had no horse—for the Queen was no more,)
Of this great Apple-Pie received many a large slice,
Which the Earl said was good, and the Countess call'd nice.
Lord Hill had a bit on't for killing the French,
So had good mother Hunn, and hers sweet pretty wench.
The piece that was had by that notable Whig
Lord Holland, was not so remarkably big;
But, yet, notwithstanding the piece was so small,
Twas a wonder a Whig should take any at all.
The Huskissons thinking 'twas glorious diversion,
Had many large cuts besides more in reversson;
But Harrison, Hobhouse Hunt Harvey, and None,
Being unable to get it, all let it alone.
JACKSON, Dr. WILLIAM, Lord Bishop of Oxford, £3,300.
JONES, WILLIAM, Esq. Marshal of the King's Bench Prison, a place supposed to be worth about £3,000 per ann.
The J's and J's together receive about £22,070 14s. 1d.

J—JOINED AT IT,

but the division was partial,

For JACKSON the Bishop,
and JONES the Bench Marshal,

Help'd themselves so profusely,
that some people said,
Scarce a bit had the others
to put in their head.
KENT, Duke of, Governor of Gibraltar, Colonel of the royal Scotch regiment of foot, and ranger of Hampton Court Little Park, £31,205.
KENYON, Lord, and J. RICHARDSON, Custos Brev. in the King's Bench; £1,801.
KENYON, Hon. R. S. Filazer, Esq. Court of King's Bench, £1,956.
KING, Dr. WALTER, Bp. of Rochester, &c. &c. £5,14a.

The K's altogether take about £77,798 15s. 3d.

K—KEPT IT,

perhaps merely out of a whim,
For, somehow or other, it would not keep him;
For though royal KENT ate enough for a score,
He grew very thin, and still wanted some more.
His lordship of Rochester, good Walter King,
Kept a bit for himself, though he call'd it a thing,
And loath'd and despis'd it, as feeling his mind
Was set upon things of a different kind;
His lordship so much upon holy things thinking,
He scarce gave a thought about eating or drinking.
But not so some others:—the Kenyons, to wit,
They lik'd all they kept, and that was not a bit
LAKE, Viscount, Lord of the Bedchamber, £13,649,
LAW, JOHN, D. D. Bishop of Elphin, £5,500.
LAW, GEORGE HENRY, Lord Bishop of Chester, &c. £3,200.
LIVERPOOL, Earl of, Constable of Dover Castle, First Lord of the Treasury,
Commissioner for the Affairs of India, and Clerk of the Pells in Ireland, £15,100.
LOWTHER, Viscount, M. P. for Westmoreland, Commissioner for Affairs of India, and Lord of the Treasury, £3,100.
The L's altogether receive about £53,763 3s.

L—LONG'D FOR IT,
like a child longing for cake,
Nor long'd he in vain, for the noble Lord Lake
Got a piece by his longing as large as a church.
Though others who long'd for't were left in the lurch.
Lord Liverpool also was seiz'd with the fit;
Law, Low her, and Long, likewise wish'd for a bit;
And their wishes were shortly most amply supplied.
For they ate so much of it, some thought they'd have died.
MONTAGUE, MAT. Duke of Manchester, Captain-General and Governor of Jamaica, £15,000.
MANSELL, WILLIAD LORT, Bishop of Bristol, £3,200.
MANSFIELD, Countess of, Deputy Ranger of Richmond Park, £1,600.
MARCH, CHARLES, late Principal Clerk of the War Office, £1,000
MARKHAM, OSBORN, and F. LE. BLANC, Clerks of the King's Bench, £8,391.
MARLBOROUGH, Duke of, pension, £3,000.
MARSH, HERBERT, D.D. Lord Bishop of Llandaff, £1,400.
MELVILLE, ROBERT, Viscount, First Lord of the Admiralty, £5,000.
Viscountess, Lady of the Queen's Bedchamber, £500.
MITFORD, R. Agent for the Scotch Exchequer in England, £2,000.
MONTEFORD, Lord, £800.
MONTROSE, Duke of, Master of the Horse, and Lord Justice-General of Scotland, £3,260 13s. 4d.
MACDONALD, Sir, A. [now dead] pensions, £3,300.
MALMESBURY, Earl of, £2,300.
MORRISON, T. Receiver of Fees and Emoluments in the office of the Mint in the Tower, £2,733.

The M's altogether take about £144,878 17s. 7d.

M—MOURN'D FOR IT,
and a strange mourning was there,
Some smil'd whilst they mourn'd,
and some mourn'd in despair;
As the Conqueror, who,
    having the world overrun,
Did weep that another world could not be won,
So lamented these men
    at this glorious repast,
And cease'd not to gormandize
    whilst it would last.
Of the weeping philosophers
    few had less cause
To complain of his share,
    than the Duke of Montrose;
Nor had Mansell much reason
    to weep and lament,
Though his office it taught him
    to sigh and repent.
The COUNTESS of MANSFIELD might laugh
    whilst she wept,
For full sixteen hundred large pieces she kept;
And all that she did for't was ranging the Park,
Or capering at puppet shows, gay as a lark.
But Marlborough, I grant, he might grumble a bit,
For with five thousand pounds he was poor as a nit;
Though on much less than this did grow fat the Lord
    Montford;
But his Grace was a book-worm and that may account for't.
Bob Mitford, and Markham, Macdonald, and March,
And Malmesbury and Montague, Melville and Marsh,
With the Morрисons, Moores, aye, and many besides,
All laugh'd till they cried, as if splitting their sides.
NORTH, Hon. BROWNLOW, Bishop of Winchester, £12,000.
NORTHINGTONS, The, Sisters and Co-heiresses of the Earl of, £2,070.
NORTON, FLETCHER, Baron of Exchequer, £2,865 10s. 5d.
NEVILLE, H. Earl of Abergavenny—office abolished.
NELSON, Lord, his survivors receive, it is said, £9,700.
NEWCASTLE, Duchess Dowager, £1,000.
NICHOLL, Sir JOHN, official Principal of the Court of Arches, £7,000.

N—NODDED,

and wink'd and look'd wonderful sly,
When first he beheld this miraculous Pie.
The Northingtons, bless their delightful sweet faces!
They nodded assent, as they sat in their places;
Whilst they ate of this Pie, with great relish and taste,
NORTON pick'd up the crumbs, that there might be no waste.

The Patent Inspector, the great Harry Neville,
He nodded adieu and look'd black as the Devil;
But Nelson, who whipp'd the proud French with a rod,
Taught his friends how to make a most elegant nod.
North, Nicholl, Newcastle, and two or three more,
All nodded to sleep, and fell flat on the floor.
Oakes, Sir Hildibrand, Lieutenant-General of the Ordnance, £1,559.
Onslow, A. and his Son, G. Onslow, and the longest liver, £3,000.
Ouseley, Sir Gore, Ambassador in Persia, £5,102 5s.

The O's altogether take about £21,263 4s. 3d.

O—OPEN'D IT,

gently,—'twas one of his jokes,

When Lieutenant-General
Sir Hildibrand Oakes,
Made a dash at the in-meat,
Nor miss'd he his aim,
For he seiz'd so much of it,
The rest cried "For shame!"
But Onslow and Ouseley
They both did the same.
PRINCE REGENT, Prince of Wales, D. of Cornwall, &c. &c. sum unknown.
PARSONS, J. Bishop of Peterborough, £2,300.
PELHAM, Hon. GEORGE, Bishop of Exeter, £3,500.
PERCEVAL, Hon JANE, (now CARR) pension £2,000.
PERCEVAL, SPENCER, Teller of the Exchequer, £2,750.
PLAT, S. and J. Clerks of the Papers, £2,575.
PLUMER, Sir T. Master of the Rolls, £4,000.
POLE, W. W. Right Hon. Master of the Mint, £13,000.
POWYS, E. Dean of Canterbury, £1,000.
The P's altogether take about £78,916 10s. 2d.

P—PEEP'D INTO'T,
eagerly poring and prying,
Like Coventry Tom the fair lady espying:
Tom paid for his peeping, by losing his eye,
And so have some others, who peep'd at this Pie:
For what foreign foe e'er presumed to peep here,
Whom we did not send back with a flea in his ear?
But, Oh! had you seen the significant glance,
When the PRINCE, so delightfully looking askance,
Most graciously cast his own fine royal eye,
At the fruit and the crust of this great Apple-Pie!
No eye ever look'd with more ardour or grace,
Or love more intensely e'er gaz'd on a face:
Oh, yes, though a leer, it was full of desire:
Though merely a peep, it was pregnant with fire.
The Priests, though abstracted from worldly affairs,
On things more substantial bestowing their cares,
They could not but feel, as they gravely pass'd by,
There was something more tempting in this Apple-Pie.
Hence Pelham and Parsons, and one or two more,
Put their hands to the fruit, like their daddy of yore.
My stars! what a look gave the good Wellesley Pole!
In his eye you might plainly perceive all his soul;
Nor could Plumer or Perceval, Powys or Plat,
Be said to look heedlessly, foolish, or flat,
As peeping, and pointing, and passing along,
They humm'd to themselves this fag end of a song:
"We see in this Pie all that's lovely and comely,
"And home it is home be it ever so homely."
Now, amongst all the persons who peep'd at this Pie,
A strange motley group, call'd "THE PEOPLE," pass'd by;
But presuming to ask for a peep and a bite,
Got a kick o' their bottom, which serv'd them just right;
For 'twas properly ask'd "What have Peasants to do
"With a Pie, but to work hard, that others may chew?"
QUARME, R. G. Usher of the Black Rod, House of Peers, £2,000.
QUARME, R. Gent. Usher of the Green Rod to the Order of the Thistle.

The Q's together take about £2,100.

Q—QUARTER'D IT,

thinking it could do us no harm,
And a portion was given to
GEORGE and BOB QUARME;
But the manner in which they devour'd it was odd,
For they pok'd out the fruit
with a black and green rod.
RICHMOND, Duke of, £12,666 13s. 4d.
ROBINSON, Right Hon. F. J. M. P. for Rippon, Treasurer of the Navy, £3,000.—Robinson, Sir F. P. Governor of Tobago, £1,300
ROSE, W. S. Clerk of the Exchequer of India, M. P. for Tiverton, £2,137.
—ROSE, B. H. Ambassador at Berlin, £6,677 9s. 7d.
RYDER, Hon. H. Bishop of Gloucester, £2,103.
The R’s altogether take about £78,135 5s. 5d.

R—RAN FOR IT,

oh, ’twas a capital race!
Some ran for a pension, and some for a place;
But running too fast, many met with a fall,
And Richmond considerably distanced them all.
The Roses, however, came in, in fine style,
With the Robinsons following them scarcely a mile.
Alas! for his lordship, the great Bishop Ryder.
He said that unless they would make the course wider,
He never could drag his fat carcass along;
The racers they were such a terrible throng.
And as for Reformers, still run as they would,
Their running or walking would do them no good.
The Radicals run themselves quite out of breath,
And bouncing about they fell flat on the earth;
Then rending the air with this horrible cry:
"Oh give us some bread, for we’ve none of the Pie!"
SALISBURY, Marquis of, Joint Post-Master-General with the Earl of CHICHESTER, £2,500.

SCOTT, Right Hon. Sir W. M.P. for Oxford University, Judge of the Consistory Court, and Judge of the Admiralty Court, £6,694.

SCOTT, WALTER, Sheriff Depute for the shire of Selkirk, and Clerk of the Court of Session, £3,500.

SEYMOUR, Lords R. and H. brothers, both fill one office, viz. Prothonotary in the Court of King's Bench, in Ireland, £6,849.

SHAFTESBURY, Earl, Chairman of Committee of the House of Lords, £2,631.

SIDMOUTH, Viscount, Secretary of State for the Home Department, and Commissioner for the Affairs of India, £7,500.

SMITH, Sir W. SIDNEY, £2,000.

SOPHIA, Princess, £7,000. SOPHIA AUGUSTA, Princess £9,000.—SOPHIA OF GLoucester, Princess, £9,000.

SOUTH, BOBERT, Poet Laureat, £100; 31st March, 1807, £200.

SPARKE, B. E. Bishop of Ely, £3,500.

STEWART, Lord, Ambassador to the Court of Vienna, Lord of the Bedchamber, and Col. of the 25th dragoons, £13,700.

SUSSEX, Duke of, £8,000.

SUTTTON, C. M. Speaker of the House of Commons, £6,000.

SUTTTON, C. M. Arch Bishop of Canterbury, £28,000.

The S's altogether take about £254,608 7s. 8d.

S—SIGH'D FORT,
and sought it, and sung for it too,
Still keeping the same tempting object in view.

D O! there was such seeking;
and singing, and sighing,
And "trembling, and hoping,
and lingering, and flying;"
All bending their steps to this one point of meeting,
As if their salvation
depended on eating!
The Princess SOPHIA—
AUGUSTA, her sister,
And their royal relation,
SOPHIA of Gloster,
In concert sent forth
a most languishing sigh,
At twenty-five thousand large cuts off this Pie.
Bob Southey, who sung in the praise of Wat Tyler,
And once of this Pie a most sturdy reviler,
Having suddenly changed his melifluous strains,
Got some pounds every year of the same for his pains:
But scarce had his hardship sat down to his meal,
Ere a terrible stupor beginning to feel,
Gave evidence clear as the sun in the sky,
That no poet sings well, who sings merely for Pie.
The fam'd Walter Scott, his great talents to show,
Sung "Roderigh Vich Alpine! dhu ho ieroe!"
And the sense was so plain, and the words were so pretty,
That Walter received for his wonderful ditty
As much as would fairly have fatten'd a score
Of such poets as Bloomfield, Tom Campbell, or Moore.
Great Scott, the wise Judge of the Admiralty Court,
Thought seeking this Pie such uncommon good sport,
That, without more ado, he soon join'd in the play,
And carried seven thousand per annum away.
But. Oh! what deep sighs did proceed from the Suttons,
As they gorg’d at this feast like as many fat gluttons;
And as persons saw an archbishop thus feeding,
Whilst the poor at each pore were most pitifully bleeding.

So unlike his Great Master:—all things in possession,
They thought they saw cause to suspect his succession:
Observing a Pastor with Kings on a level,
They cried out, “Oh! Antichrist, Pope, and the Devil!”

Lord Sidmouth, on hearing this blasphemous cry,
(His lordship replete with the fruit of this Pie,)
From the depth of his soul fetch’d a most heavy sigh,
And declar’d, if the dogs thus insulted their betters,
He’d instantly choke them with circular letters.

*Mongst those seekers and sighers, and those who die daily,
I should not omit the good Bishop of Ely,
The kind, the benevolent, excellent Sparke,
Fam’d for preaching and praying, and hitting a mark.
Lord Stewart, he sigh’d to some purpose indeed,
For a piece was soon given him sufficient to feed
A hundred such men; aye, and had he another,
He was welcome because he was Castlereagh’s brother.
Great Sussex, of princes the marrow and pith,
With Salisbury and Shaftesbury, Seymour and Smith,
All sigh’d with success for a piece of this Pie,
Though many who sigh’d got a kick for each sigh:
’Twas just as it should be, for ought such a mine
Be taken from Princes, and cast before “Swine!”
TALBOT, C. CHETWYND, Earl Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, £30,900.
TAYLOR, B. Envoy Extra, and Minister Plenipo, at Wirtsemburg, £4,276.
THOMAS NASSAU, Master of the Robes, (salaries in this department,) £800.

THORNTON, EDWARD, Ambassador and Minister Plenipotentiary at Brazil, £5,500.
THURLOW, Lord EDWARD, Clerk of the Custodies of Idiots and Lunatics, (Court of Chancery,) Office for executing the Laws concerning Bankrupts, and Clerk of the Presentations in the Court of Chancery, £6,713.
THYNNE, Lord GEORGE, Comptroller of the King's Household, £1,200.
TOMLINE, GEORGE, Bishop of Lincoln, and Dean and Canon Residentiary of St. Pauls, £5,100.
TORRINGTON, Lord, late Minister Plenipotentiary at Brussels, £1,684.
TUCKER, B. Deputy Secretary to the Lords of the Admiralty, £1,082.
The T’s altogether take about £98,239 8s. 9d.

T—TOOK IT;
but whether he toil’d for it too,
My author has hitherto kept out of view:
Be that as it may, friend T took it and kept it,
When TALBOT and THURLOW so handsomely swept it,
And Thomson and Thornton, and Tomline and Thynne,
All took many pieces, and thought it no sin;
So did Taylor and Torrington, Thomas, and Tucker;
But Tierney he was in a terrible pucker,
And swore if the Tories they took at this rate,
They would leave poor John Bull not a morsel to eat,
VANSITTART, Right Hon. NICHOLAS, Chancellor of the Exchequer, M.P. for Harwich, Lord of the Treasury, Commissioner for the Affairs of India, and Under Treasurer of Exchequer, £7,500.

VAUGHAN, C. Secretary of Embassy at Madrid, £2,186. 10s.

VERNON, CAROLINE, Maid of Honour to the Queen, £1,300.

VILLIERS, Hon. GEORGE, Paymaster of Marines, and Groom of the Bedchamber to the King, £3,300.

VIVIAN, JOHN, and E. W. CARR, Solicitors of the Excise, £13,913.

VYSE, W. Archdeacon of Coventry, and Rector of Lambeth, £1,710.

The V's and U's together take about £10,170 1s. 3d.

V—VIEW'D IT,

and finding it toothsome and good,

Said he liked it as much as he liked his own blood,

When the pious VANSITTART, the Treasury Lord,

That great calculator, and man of his word;

That frame of bills about payments and cash,

Not long did stand viewing, but making a dash,

Nearly made of this Pie a mere hodge-podge & hash.

JOHN VIVIAN, solicitor of the Excise.

The Reverend, disinterested, good William VYSE,

Also Caroline VERNON, the sweet maid of honour

To the Queen—though the Queen needs no maid to wait on her;

Likewise Villiers, Vaughan, and many V's more,

This Pie of the state came to view and adore.
WALES, Princess of, £35,000.
WALSINGHAM, Lord, Comptroller of First Fruits (Court of Exchequer), also a pension of £2,000.—£2,250.
WARD, ROBERT, M.P. for Haslemere, Clerk of the Ordnance, £1,914.
WARREN, Sir JOHN BORLASE, £2,000.
WARRENDER, Sir GEORGE, a Lord of the Admiralty, £1,500.
WELLESLEY, Right Hon. Sir Henry, Ambassador at Madrid, £10,603.
WELLINGTON, Duke of, &c. &c. It is impossible to state the precise amount of his Grace's income, but it may be estimated on a moderate supposition at £30,000.
WESTMORLAND, J. F. Earl of, Lord of Privy Seal, £3,000.
WINCHESTER, Marquis of, Groom of the Stole, £2,000.
WYNDHAM, Hon. P. C. Register in Chancery in Jamaica, and Secretary and Clerk of Council in Barbadoes, £2,170.
WYNNE, H. W. W. late Envoy at the Court of Dresden, £1,200.
The W's receive altogether about £130,462 2s. 2d.

W—WISH'D FOR'T,
but wishing, and wishing won't do,
Or the Whigs had long had it; I say what is true;
For, to my certain knowledge, for this Apple Pie,
They have wish'd till they almost were ready to die;
And 'tis ev'ry where known that to this very hour,
They are panting for places, and pensions, and power
Well, let them wish on; for in spite of their panting,
The Whigs I'm persuaded, they still must be wanting.
Yet let not friend W. wish in despair,
For, indeed, he comes in for a plentiful share.
That unfortunate exile, the Princess of Wales,
The subject and victim of all sorts of tales,
Some true and some false, whate'er be her wish,
Enjoys no small share of this excellent dish.
The Marquis of Winchester, Groom of the Stole,
Though he had not exactly the wish of his soul,
Having nothing to do for the lumps he receiv'd,
With two thousand per annum he was not much griev'd
Great Wellington certainly had much to do,
In beating Napoleon at fam'd Waterloo;
And so well has his country rewarded his skill,
Should he eat all we've given him, I'm certain it will.
If not burst him outright, make him terribly ill.
Lord Wellesley, Walsingham, Wynham, and Wynne,
Lest wishing for Pie they should grow very thin,
Were supplied with as much as they fairly could stuff,
And yet they scarce thought they had all got enough.
So Westmoreland, Warrender, Warren, and Ward,
All seem'd to conceive it was cruel and hard,
That they were not permitted to have all they wanted,
Tho' in fact, for the whole of this Pie they all panted.
Now Wolseley and Wooller, and Waithman and Wood,
Admitting the Pie to be wholesome and good,
All declared that they never had wish'd for a bit on't;
And just as they said so old Watson he spit on't;
But some persons thought that this nasty old elf,
Only did it to have the whole Pie to himself.
YORK, Duke of, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Forces, Keeper and Lieutenant of his Majesty's Forest, Parks, and Warrens at Windsor, and for holding Swanimote Courts in Windsor Forest, £10,631 16s. 7d.—Also see Letter D

YORK, Duchess of. £4,000.

YORK, Rt. Hon. EDW. VENABLES VERNON, Archbishop of, £12,000.

YORKE, Right Hon. C. P. Teller of the Exchequer, £2,700.

The Y's altogether take about £62,503 6s. 4d.

Y—YAWN'D O'ER IT,

weari'd with eating and drinking;
For York ate sufficient, at least, to my thinking,
To feed half the army, as the armies are fed;
Whilst poor old JOHN BULL o'er the empty dish said,
"Ah! there's none left for me, nor for X nor for Z".

THE END.
DR. SYNTAX IN LONDON.

In One Volume Octavo, or in Eight Parts with Twenty Plates, price 2s. 6d.

THE TOUR OF DR. SYNTAX THROUGH LONDON;
or, the Pleasures and Miseries of the Metropolis.
A Poem,

BY THE CELEBRATED DR. SYNTAX.

* * Three unusual large editions of this Work have been called for by the Public within a few months, and the very flattering notice that has been taken of it in most of the journals, have given rise to many Shameless Deceptions, Spurious Imitations, and Gross Impositions.

MITFORD’S NEWCOME IN THE NAVY.

In One Volume Octavo, or in Eight Parts, with Twenty Plates, price 2s. 6d.

THE ADVENTURES OF JOHNNY NEWCOME IN THE NAVY.
A Poem in Four Canto's, with Plates.

BY JOHN MITFORD, ESQ. R.N.

* * "A Greenhorn, piping hot from shore, "Hark! Johnny Newcome is the roar, "Here’s Johnny Newcome! thrice three cheers "Sound through the cockpit, births, and tiers."

To avoid Imposition order "Mr. Mitford’s Johnny Newcome."

This Work is embellished with Twenty Plates, as follows:

ADVENTURES OF A TRUE BRITISH SAILOR.

In One Elegant Volume royal 8vo. or in Twelve Numbers, price 2s. embellished with Twenty-five Plates, THE

ADVENTURES OF A POST CAPTAIN.

BY A NAVAL OFFICER.

* * "Ten years twice told this seaman brave "Had fought the wind, and stemmed the wave; "Each port in every main he knew, "Its soundings, strength, and wenches too."
NORTHERN EXPEDITION.
In One Volume 12mo. price 6s, with numerous coloured Plates, MUNCHAUSEN AT THE POLE;
OR THE
Surprising and Wonderful Adventures of a Voyage of Discovery:
Consisting of some of the most Marvellous Exploits ever performed by Man:
Together with a Correct List of the Curiosities brought home and deposited in the Museum and Tower of London.

BY THE RENOWNED CAPTAIN MUNCHAUSEN, G. C. B. A.

An interesting Present to Friends abroad, and a Fund of Amusement at home.
Published Monthly, Price 1s. 6d. in Octavo, each Number containing Sixty-Four Pages of Letter-Press, and A HIGHLY-FINISHED PLATE,
A NEW SATIRICAL, CRITICAL, AND HUMOUROUS Miscellany, entitled
THE NEW BON TON MAGAZINE;
Or, Telescope of the Times.

The utility of a work of this kind (which is the only one) must be self-evident. Satire checks, at least, the habits of the profligate, and let their station in life be what it may, the lash will not be spared.

Orders may be given to any Bookseller, Stationer, or Newman.

Part of the Contents in a few of the Numbers Published, are as follow:
The Life of a Man of Fashion.—No want of New Churches, but good Parsons.—The Great Duke and the French Opera Girl.—Fashionable Life, or Bon Ton.—On the Indecent Practice of employing Mid-Wives in Preference to Females.—Hells upon Earth.
—Confessions of a Methodist.—Royal Marriages.—The Gaming Table.—The Pillars of the Church, or Conclave with the Devil.—The Regent and the Spanish Girl.—The Cats in Disguise, allowing the Queen to enter the City with more ceremony than a barrow-woman. —Generosity of a Gamester.—Rowland Hill's Flying Conventicle.
The Snuffy Admiral and Snuffy O—n.—Marriage a-la-Mode.—The Modish Quack.
Majesty and the Mayor.—French Gallantry.—Female Delicacy.—Hard to Please.—Scam
Uppermost.—On the Expediency of Divorces.—The Alderman's Prayer.—The Clarence Royal Mail.—Bon Ton in the City.—Devil amongst the Lottery-officemen. —On the Duty of Mothers to their infants.—A Character.—Ilogorical Sketch of the Life of Sir John Ross.—The Prince and the Banker's Wife.—On the Adulteration of the Necessaries of Life.—A Scourilous Letter from one of the Elect.—Bon Ton in Ireland.—Lord S—t and Sir James Iristow.—A General attempting to ride over a Tempest in Chancery.—Sir Murray Maxwell and the Westminster Electors.—French Gratitude and Gallantry.—Remarkable Vicissitudes in High Life.—Another Delicate Inquiry, —Sir Home Popham and the Black Missionaries.—Snellet's Tomb.—A Companion for V——t C——. —The Pearege Hunter.—Ways and Means of the K——t Admiral.
—R——r Caterwauling.—Curious Coincidence.—The Princess of Hesse.—The King and the Maid of Posen.—The Noble Amateur.—The Political Telescope.—Jester's Wit
—On Modern Vices.—Indecence to Batchelors to Marry.—Hanging Parsons.—Lord
V——t a and Mr. S——. —L——rss of W——s and Osman Ali Ehiendi.—Margraviue of Anspach and the Lady Doctor Maria. —The Marquis and the Actress.—The Afection of Princes,—Original Anecdotes.—The Lord Mayor and the Monkey—Doctor of Learning.—Fashionable Lady.—ad with the Noble Lord and the Irish Thief.—The Dandy with the Oriental Tie.—The Petersham with the Osbaldston Tie.—A Duel of Dandies.—Actresses Defended.—Royal Extravagance.—Family Love.
—The Wandering Poet.—The Sporting Nobleman, his Lady and the Cow.—Mrs. Bang and her Confederates.—The Royal Lubber.—The Unfortunate Laiy.
—Scanted Prince.—Sir Joey and the Congress.—lran for Preventing Forgery.—Royal Gloucester Cheese.—A Noted Female Character.—English Sultana at Constantinople.—The Minister Puzeled.—Tea 'Trade in an Upoar.—The Poor Greek in the Nads.—The Northern Sovereign and the Countess G——. —Lady E——, Hon. A——. —Lord M——.
—Lord D—— and Cock Fighting.—The Diving Belle.—The Fat Marchioness.—The Admiral's Lady.—The Driving Countess.—Ious the Lusty, and the Diamond Duke
—The Marchioness of A——, or Just in the West.—Marquis of H——. —The C——ss de V——d.—I. An Old Woman's Cure for a Sick Daughter.—Lady Clare and Horace Twiss.—Faithful and Miss Kelly.—Clerical or Fashionable Reading.—Sketch of the Life of Monk Lewis.—The Blessings of Matrimony.—The Roman Brothers.—An Epistle to an Old Maid.—Earl terrors and the Old Woman.—Tonish, or Fashionable Disorders.
—Bon Ton in the Bowels of the Bench.—The Dandy Lord.—The late Lord Chancellor in Petticoats.—The Duke of ——— to John Bull.—Bull's Reply.—A French Brux.—
Clerc Amis of an Ill-Mannered Duke.—Full of Amour Fatale, or the Fighting Lord and Lx ing Baroness.—Lord H—— and his Lady.—A Royal Divorce in Contemplation.—Sor-—General Sarruzin and his Two Wives.—Noble Adultery.—Lord Cochran—Truth by Day-light.—Noble Marriage at a House of Ill Fame.—Sketch of the Life of Doctor Wall, upon Peter Pindar, Esq. &c. &c. &c.
THE LOYAL MAN IN THE MOON;
With Fourteen Cuts, viz.
Radicals discovered in the Moon—How they got there—The Devil at the Helm—The Moon in full, exhibiting some well-known Phizies—Spouting at an Alcove, and appointing a Meeting—Going to the Meeting—Place of Meeting—Process of Broad Bottoms—Chairing a Westminster Baronet—An old Soldier—Cobbett and Hunt, with Tom Paine’s Bones—King George III.—William Pitt, &c.

AMUSEMENT FOR WINTER EVENINGS.
Neatly done up in a Box, producing at least Thirty Thousand Portraits, Price only 4s.

MOVEABLE CHARACTERS,
with hats and wigs,
So that the most laughable and grotesque Figures may be brought to view:
For instance, place BUONAPARTE’s hat on KING GEORGE THE FOURTH; or the RECORDER’S WIG on BUONAPARTE; it makes so singular a change in appearance that it produces a fund of amusement, and cannot fail to please all humours and dispositions. Quizzical Portraits are given, as well as the following:—King George the Third—King George the Fourth—Emperor Alexander—King of France—William Pitt—Charles Fox—Buonaparte—The Duke of Wellington—Lord Petersham—and John Kemble; which, by being changed, produce at least 30,000 Portraits. —— * Please to order the Monastic Characters by Johnston.

The Whole Secret Laid Open.

Price 1s. 6d. The Complete Art of making the

FULMINATING OBJECTS,
Which explode by being set fire to, by pressing upon with the foot, or by friction.
They consist of the following objects, viz.

THE GIFT OF SECURITY, which, by being hung on two hooks, one placed on the door, and the other on the door-post, will prove the only effectual safeguard to property ever offered to the public, as the door cannot be opened without producing a loud explosion, which may be increased from that of a musket to a field-piece, according to the will of the proprietor: the gift is equally applicable to windows or shutters, which cannot fail to make it an object of the utmost importance to all families, and may be obtained at a very cheap rate.

FULMINATING LETTERS, which may be folded in the usual way, and sent to any part of the world, on their being opened will make a report equal to a pistol, and free from danger.

FULMINATING SPIDERS, made so as to resemble the common Spider, which, on being trod upon, produce a loud report.

FULMINATING PIPE-LIGHTS on being lighted produce a loud report.

FULMINATING CHAIRS are so prepared as to explode with a loud report on any person sitting down upon them.

FULMINATING DRAWERS are made so as to explode on being opened or shut, &c. &c. &c.

It is here to be observed, that each object has a clear direction given with it, so as to prevent any accident in the manufacture or use. These objects are justly esteemed, as being not only the greatest possible security from robbers, but affording an innocent and rational amusement at a trifling expense.

The whole art is simplified and fully explained, and patterns given of the most difficult objects, so as to enable any person to manufacture them.

[Entered at Stationers’ Hall.] Price only 1s. 6d.

Every Man his own Blacking & Boot-Top Liquid Manufacturer.

A most valuable Collection of upwards of

THIRTY GENUINE RECEIPTS,
For Liquid Blackings, Perfumed and other Blacking Pastes, Blacking Balls and Powders; the Original Receipt for the Real Japan Blacking, as made by the most noted Firms in London, and several other Blacking Makers. The Norfolk Fluid, for rendering Leather soft, pliable, and water-proof. Clothes Powder and Chemical Clothes Balls, real Silver and other Plate Powders, Furniture Balls, Paste, &c.

The saving in the manufacture of every Article here-mentioned is immense; with which ample directions are given, so as to make the whole plain and familiar to every capacity.
A most Important Work to all concerned in the Money Market.

This Day is Published, Price Five Shillings, boards,

Every Man his Own Stock-Broker;
Or, A COMPLETE
GUIDE TO THE PUBLIC FUNDS:
CONSISTING OF
The Origin of the Funding System; Causes of the Fluctuation of the Prices of Stock; Manner of raising and conducting the Funded Debt; Description of the various kinds of Stock; Manner of finding what quantity of Stock may be bought for a given Sum of Money; Manner of finding what Sum must be laid out in any kind of Stock to produce a given Income; Manner of finding the Amount of the Half-yearly Dividends on any quantity of Stock; Manner of finding what an Annuity may be purchased with, or sold to produce a given Sum; Table of the Proportion which the different kinds of Stock bear to each other, when at different Prices; Amount of the National Debt at various periods, from 1688 to 1818; Method of reducing Gold and Silver to English standard; Method of finding the Value of Gold and Silver Specie and Bullion; Table of Gold and Silver Coins of the principal Nations of the World.

By GEORGE G. CAREY, ESQ.

With 28 Cuts, Price One Shilling,

THE POLITICAL "A, APPLE PIE;"
Or, The Extraordinary Red Book Versified,
For the Instruction and Amusement of the New Parliament and the rising Generation.

By the Author of "The House that Jack Built."

Price 2s. with Twenty-Five Cuts, 5th Edition,

A POLITICAL LECTURE ON HEADS.

BY THE BLACK DWARF.

"How can I help it, if by queer mishap,
Each on his head should place my random cap?"

CONSISTING OF

RETRENCHMENT!

THE ENGLISHMAN'S MIRROR;
Or, Corruption and Taxation Unmasked!

Containing a List of Placemen, Pensioners, and sinecureists, with the amount of their Salaries, &c. proving the strongest necessity of Retrenchment that can possibly be aid before the nation; together with a Correct List of the New Parliament; also Magna Charta—Bill of Rights—Act of Settlement—and Habeas Corpus Act.

In the Press, and shortly will be published, in Three Vols. 12mo.

NARCISUS AND THE MARCHIONESS;
Dr. Sun Tzu at Court.
By the Author of "A Month in Town."

LON JUAN!

IN OCTAVO.

THE THIRD CANTO OF DON JUAN.
By the Author of the First and Second.